ABOUT FLOWERS

THOMAS COGGER

229 Laurel St., Melrose, Mass.

Melrose is located about seven miles from Boston on the Boston & Maine R. R. Visitors are always welcome to see the Flowers during the months of August and September.

INTRODUCTION

For the coming season I am offering some choice new varieties which you will find offered for the first time in Gladioli and Dahlias.

TIME OF PLANTING

If you like to have flowers at different times, it would be best to plant at different times up to the 20th of June, and then you will have flowers right along through the season.

While we exert the greatest care to have every thing true to name, we will not assume any responsibility for errors that may occur, but will, without asking any questions replace any bulbs that do not prove satisfactory.

We would be pleased to send a catalogue to any of your friends. If you are satisfied with your flowers, tell others. If not, tell us.

STORING

Bulbs should be dug in the fall before they are too ripe. Cut the top off close to the bulb and leave them out side to ripen in the hot sun for seven or eight days and then store in a cool, dry place.

DAHLIAS

It is best to plant Dahlias in gravel and not in rich soil. Put coal ashes in the hills where the bulbs are. When the plants are about a foot high put manure around the plant.
